Fiesta Mexicana featured on Food Network's "You Gotta Eat Here!"

Filming just wrapped up on set at Fiesta Mexicana, a local favorite, at 793 Notre Dame, with host John Catucci cracking jokes right to the very end. "Not only is it an honor and a pleasure to be featured on the popular tv show" says Rodd Cruikshank, Owner, "it was a real treat watching our Executive Chef, Alberto Vazquez, aka "Beto" and John bat the jokes around like that, back and forth for two days". The caveat to all this is that the Food Network has to give the green light for the future season to air, which should be a given seeing how popular the show is. Once the decision to go ahead with the next season, we've been informed Fiesta Mexicana's episode will air in Jan 2013.

This is the culmination of close to two years of hard work bringing the authentic flavors of Mexico to Kamloops and to get this kind of National TV exposure is just what this fledgling company needs to get off the ground so to speak. "We see a real opportunity in the market right now, Western Canada in particular", say the restratuers, "as the tide turns against the processed food industry and their offshoots the fact that we make virtually everything in house, from scratch will bring people in and keep them coming and our job is to make sure that they do and that they leave with a smile!" This is exactly what brought the Food Network's show here. When asked to send in a brief Bio of the restaurant and the characters that run it we sent in photos of our patrons with Sombreros on after coming to celebrate their birthdays at Fiesta Mexicana and the image of smile after smile under a Sombrero (with no shortage of rosy cheeks) was one of the selling points of this locally owned and operated eatery.

A welcoming, fun, unique and eclectic atmosphere awaits you at Fiesta Mexicana. All of us here wish to thank you for supporting us, a restaurant that is striving to provide the most authentic Mexican experience!

The Burrito Guadalajara, made with fresh house made Chorizo was a featured signature dish.
